Art Unit: 1618

Claims 1-26 are presented for examination.

The amendments and remarks filed on June 6, 2006 have been received and entered.

Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112 first paragraph for the reasons set forth on pages 3-5 of the office action of August 29, 2005 and page 2 of the office action of February 6, 2006.

Applicant's arguments and remarks have been carefully considered, but are not deemed to be persuasive. The claims of the instant application are very broad and encompass the use of lipoxin A4 for the treatment or prevention of any condition associated with columnar epithelial inflammation. Applicant's specification provides guidance and it is only enabled for the treatment of certain conditions associated with columnar epithelium inflammation using Lipoxin A4. However, the instant specification fails to provide enablement of the "treating" and "preventing" all conditions associated with columnar epithelium disorders. There are no examples to demonstrate the "prevention" of conditions associated with columnar epithelium inflammation using Lipoxin A4. Since activity of a compound for a pharmaceutical use must be determined from case to case by painstaking experimental study, one of ordinary skill in the art would be burdened with undue experimentation to determine all conditions and diseases associated with columnar epithelial inflammation, which can be treated with lipoxin A4.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by WO 90/13292 for the reasons set forth on pages 2 and 3 of the office action of February 6, 2006 and the following reasons. WO teaches the use of Lipoxin A4 in a pharmaceutical formulation for the treatment vasoconstriction associated with certain disorders. Such use would inherently prevent a disease or condition associated with columnar epithelial inflammation.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
